

The Nature Conservancy and other conservation organizations are working to ensure ecologically compatible uses of the natural resources in the world-renowned Peconic region.

RE: New York State Legislation A7438/S4364.

This legislation will curtail "light pollution". In addition to conserving energy, the measures proposed will help restore a more natural environment that will benefit both wildlife and humans. The fact that these conservation steps also save energy and money, while improving safety, makes it a win-win situation for people and the environment.

Alpa Pandya
Conservation Finance & Policy Advisor
The Nature Conservancy on Long Island
(631) 329-3981, ext.15